

SAB Best Paper Award 2022

Stichting Astma Bestrijding (SAB) Dutch Foundation for Asthma Prevention

The SAB Best Paper Award is presented every year to a young investigator who performed his/her research in a research institute or hospital in the Netherlands, or to a Dutch investigator who performed his/her research abroad.

Criteria for the award are:

- Young investigators are defined as being under 40 years of age on 31-12-2021.
- Young investigators need to be first author or last author on this paper, with a clear and important contribution.
- Manuscripts must have a topic within the field of asthma, COPD or obstructive lung disease, and the topic has to fit the goals of the Stichting Astma Bestrijding. The manuscript needs to describe original work (no review or meta-analysis) that has been published in an (inter)national peer reviewed journal.
- Relevance and innovation in basic or applied research
- The 2022 competition will refer to papers published in 2021. Manuscripts must have a publication date in 2021. Online pre-publications, that will have a publication date in 2022 are not eligible.
- Each young investigator can submit one paper in this competition.

The awardee will be selected from applications by SAB, who will announce the winner to the NRS Board and the YI Board. The YI Board invites the awardee to the YIS 2022 (December 9), where the award of € 2.500,= will be given by a representor of the SAB to the young investigator.

The application Form is available at the website of the Stichting Astma Bestrijding <http://www.astmabestrijding.nl> and should be sent together with the paper and a recent CV to Andre de Graaf, Subsidie@astmabestrijding.nl
