

Joachim Aerts is pulmonary physician and associate professor at the Amphia Hospital Breda and Erasmus MC Rotterdam. His main research focus is on thoracic malignancies. He is principal investigator on the first researchproject on dendritic cell immunotherapy in mesothelioma.